Highlights from Exchange Rates II: Artist-Run Spaces & 10 Minute Talks

Exchange Rates II: The Bushwick International Expo, took place October 20-23 in Bushwick, Brooklyn. In searching the official event listings I was first led to a currency converting page wherein the Euro was the star currency for understandable reasons. Next, at sluice.info I found the duly cosmopolitan line up of artist-run spaces making their way to town all the way from The Netherlands, Berlin, the UK, Philadelphia, California and some closer to home from other parts of New York and New Jersey.

Color coordinates: Jason Hughs cash collage at Transmitter (hosting IS-Projects, Netherland) painting and pendulum works from Collar (Manchester, England) Gallery North (Newcastle, England) Nic Coviello's salmon and turquoise mixed media works at BLAM Projects (hosting SAGE Projects, Philadelphia).
